Episcopal Minute: All Saints

The observance of All Saints on Nov. 1, and All Souls on Nov. 2, has been part of our tradition for centuries. We have a long list of names of our Beloved Departed which will be read from the altar during the Eucharistic Prayer D, a prayer inspired by Eastern Orthodoxy. In celebration of the specialness of this day, I will chant the beginning and end of the prayer in the Mozarabic setting, a florid and beautiful chant reminiscent of the Exultet at the Easter Vigil.

Because All Saints is an especially appropriate time for baptism, and we do not have any baptismal candidates this year, we will renew our own baptismal vows in place of the Nicene Creed.

This is one of the great festivals of the church. Please plan to attend!

Deacon's Dismissal

By Rev Josh Butler

As I venture into the world to minister to prisoners and homeless men, I am frequently ministering to men who are not all that lovable. They have their own beliefs and opinions. I dispense the alms … they receive the alms … why can they not see the world as I see it? Alas, I learn every day that God has not arranged the world for my personal tranquility. From time to time … more now than before … I see a little of these men in myself … and a little of me in them … and a healthy dose of God in us all.
